Appomattox Jaycees Bosses' Night was held here on Tuesday night, February 12th, with a banquet, the naming of the "Boss of the Year", and remarks made to the group by State Senator Howard P. Anderson.

Anderson Speaks To Jaycees At Annual Bosses' Night

"The work load in this Session of the General Assembly is the heaviest I have seen in my seventeen years in the General Assembly", State Senator Howard P. Anderson of Halifax told the Appomattox Jaycees Tuesday night, February 12th at their annual Bosses' Night banquet here.

The Jaycees named William S. Connor as "Boss of the Year". He is a project engineer and manager within Babcock & Wilcox Company's Naval Nuclear Fuel Division.

Connor was described as a boss who shows no favoritism and "functions under a policy of making his employes as much a part of their job as possible."

He also is a part-time farmer and served as chairman of the last horse show sponsored by the Boonsboro Ruritan Club, of which he is president. He is a member of the Lynchburg Society for Engineering and Science and Chestnut Hill Baptist, Lynchburg.

Senator Anderson, in remarks prepared for delivery, told the Jaycees that he is in support of a measure to reinstate the death penalty as allowed by a recent Supreme Court ruling, that mandatory capital punishment should be considered "for such offenses as murder of an on-duty police officer or second conviction of first degree murder and several others. This proposal is now before the Courts of Justice Committee, on which Anderson serves, and he feels that it has a good chance of gaining passage.

In his address to the local Jaycees, Anderson outlined his position on a variety of issues now being considered by the General Assembly in Richmond. He said he was happy to report that he finds no sentiment for increasing taxes in any area or any new tax proposals; that he would oppose any measure which would permit parimutuel betting in Virginia; that he would support a "meaningful No Fault Insurance measure" but said none has been reported from the committee that he considers worthy of support; that he also favors keeping the current Sunday Blue Laws; on the matter of the porposed Equal Rights Amendment he cited several incidences in which women would be adversly affected if the amendment were ratified; and he also explained some of the features of the "workfare bill" which he recently introduced in the Senate. it would reform the state's welfare system by requiring welfare recipients to register for jobs with the Virginia Employment Commission. If recipients lacked sufficient skills to work, they would be trained.

"This matter of welfare in our nation today is very vicious and frequently untouchable.

"With judges like Merhige of Richmond and the Welfare Rights Organization, which is simply a union of welfare recipients, gentlemen, we have a real problem on our hands," Anderson informed the group.

FORGIVENESS AND FEAR

In Psalms 130 verse four we read, "there is forgiveness with God that He might be feared." This is good news especially to those to whom the Holy Spirit has revealed the sinfulness of sin. Bread may be common place to those who are well fed but to the starving man it is a great thing. When the Holy Spirit has revealed to a person the sinfulness of their nature a man for the first time sees himself as a hell bound and hell deserving sinner before a thrice Holy God. The thought, then, of forgiveness and pardon is a welcome truth. We might look to nature and see the goodness of God to man but not the mercy of God to sinners. The only way we can know that there is forgiveness with God is because the Bible declares so. The Bible tells us how that God can be both just and the justifier of the ungodly; that we can be pardoned through the vicarious suffering of Jesus Christ. The forgiveness of God is consistent with His nature, as our Lord cried out even upon the cross, "Father forgive them for they know not what they do." God has many attributes. He is almighty. However, I never read that He delighteth in power or that He delighteth in justice but I do read that "He delighted in mercy." We must go through the only mediator, Jesus Christ, to find pardon and forgiveness. Forgiveness through Christ does not teach looseness in our life but it motivates obedience and reverence, repentance, prayer, love, and devotion. As the scripture declares, "I will put my fear in their hearts that they shall not depart from me."
